INTRODUCTION OF ORDINANCES AND RESOLUTIONS.

By Mr. Henderson, an ordinance submitting to the people the amendments to the Constitution adopted by this Convention at the regular election in November, 1876. Referred. By Mr. Wheeler, rep., an ordinance to prohibit the payment of the public debt or any part thereof until a bill for that purpose shall have passed the Legislature and sub. mitted to and sanctioned by the people. Referred.

By the same, an ordinance to provide for the keeping of public roads by taxation.

By the same, an ordinance to amend see. 7, art. 6, preventing the Township Board of Trustees from assessing their own property. County Commissioners to appoint three disinterested persons to do it.

By the same, an ordinance to amend art. 7, abolishing registration of voters. Every one to be allowed to vote without registration.

By Mr. Barringer, an ordinance to amend sec. 25, art. 1, relating to the militia, giving them the right to bear arms, and the practice of carrying concealed arms. Referred.

By Mr. Turner, a resolution that it is the sense of this Convention that the exchange of bonds of the Raleigh and Augusta Air-Line Railroad bonds for depreciated State bonds should cause until the General Assembly could be heard from.

By Mr. Jarvis, an ordinance to amend sec. 6. art. 2, repudiating special tax bonds and the bonds issued by the Convention of 1868.

Mr. Badger moved to suspend the rules and take up the ordinance to relieve the disabilities of W. W. Holden, reported upon adversely this morning, and make it the special order for Wednesday next at 12 m. The motion to suspend was adopted, and the question was made the special order for that day. A motion to suspend the rules and take up the report of the Committee on the question of the per diem of the members of the Convention was lost by a vote of 49 to 50, many of the members having paired off and not

THE SUPREME COURT. The ordinance reported by the Committee on the Judicial Department, reducing the Supreme Court to a Chief Justice and two Associates, was taken up as the special order.

Mr. Albertson, rep., took the floor in opposition to the measure. He held that the reduction proposed was a false principle of economy. He argued at some length upon the causes that led to the large number of appeals that came up to the Supreme from the Superior Courts. He believed that it was easier to intimidate three men than five men, and if it be a fact, as has been charged throughout the State for years past, that our officials and our people are corrupt, it is easier to corrupt three men than it is five. The Supreme Court of the State should be strengthened by the moral support of all legislation rather than weakened. The establishment of the homestead exemption by the Supreme Court had met with the support and endorsement of the people, and the Supreme Court could not be attacked without this measure being attacked also. The people already had some lurking suspicion that the homestead was to be interfered with, and it would not of mere economy. Mr. Buxton, rep., did not think the Convention would entertain a more important subject than the one now do to do anything else that would further alarm our people. There was more in the question than that being considered. He thought any attempt to abridge the powers of the Supreme Court would be doubted by the people .-Those who favored this measure desired to return to the old customs, but he believed that the necessities of the present day demanded that there should be 5 Judges upon the Supreme Court bench. The clothes of the child will not suit for the grown person, and the wants of a people few in numbers cannot supply the necessitles of that people when they shall have become more numerous and powerful. The increased prosperity of the State and the largely increased amount of litigation called for an inincreased amount of work at the hands of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Badger, rep., stated that five or three members of the Supreme Court. He would confine himself, in discussing the question, to only one point. Other countries had failed in sustaining a Republican form of government, and it was known and the philosophic historian acknowledged that this failure resulted from the fact that in no other country than this has there ever existed a judicial branch of the government independent of and above Legislative powers, with power to order and enforce, and we should move carefully in abridging the power of our judicial branch. He only defended the Supreme Court of North Carolina, because he thought

Mr. Manning, dem., of Chatham, said the only question before the Convention was, whether the Supreme Court should be composed of three or five members. There was no intention to attack this body, or to take away any of its powers, but on the contrary to entrench it in the Constitution. The numbers of that body were no guarantee against corruption; this guarantee must be found in the integrity of the individual numbers of the body. He denied that the homestead of the good people of this State depended upon the tenure of office of the present members of the Supreme Court. The law giving this protection to the poor people of North Carolina was embedded in the hearts of the whole people, and there was no wish to assail it by any party. The amendment proposed was in no manner an attack upon the present Supreme Court, as there was no provision to turn out any of its members until their term of office shall have expired. The largest number of property holders in the State, at all affected by the Homestead Act, were known to be in the Democratic party, and certainly his party had no desire to deprive their party friends of the protection thus afforded them. and hence the cry of danger in this quarter was a useless one, with no foundation in fact. In the contest between the Legislature and the Supreme Court, if any such has taken place as the gentleman would seem to interest, the history of the State inclines us to prefer three, for we passed

He wanted to speak for his people. They wanted the Supreme Court strengthened not weakened. His people understood his illustratious and he would make them here in order to express himself more fully. The people at present would jump over the magistrates' court, and then over the Superior Court into the Supreme Court pen and then this pen should be made stronglto keep the people from jumping over that, That was the way they did down in his country when they wanted to hold animals, and the more obstreporous these animals became the stronger was the pen made. [The Reporter will not attempt to report farther the remarks of this delegate, suffice it to say that for ten minutes he expatiated upon the injustice to the people to reduce the number of Supreme Court Judges, his remarks drawing forth uproarious laughter which the Chair was unable to restrain.-REPORTER.

The motion to reconsider was lost. CALENDAR.

The report of the Judiciary Committee, recommending that several bills to strike out art. 4 sec. 9 of the Constitution do not pass, was considered. These bills propose to do away with the law now setting the time o holding the sessions of the Supreme, day next. The report of the Committee on Legislative Department, recommending that the bill to abolish the Senate branch of the Legislature do not pass, was considered, and the bill laid upon the table.

The resolution to amend the Constitution in relation to the filling of vacancies in the General Assembly, was, on motion, tabled.

The ordinance to amend sec. 3, art. , relating to public schools, was considered. The ordinance provides that each county of the State shall be divided into a convenient number of districts, in which one or more public schools shall be maintained, at least four months in every year; and the General Assembly shall make suitable provision by law for the management and regulation of the public schools, and for perfecting the system of free public instruction ; and the children of the white race and the colored race shall forever be kept separate in the public schools of this State.

The Committee recommended that it do pass. Mr. Badger moved to postpone further consideration of the question until Monday, but subsequently withdrew the motion, and took the floor in opposition to the measure proposed, pending which the Convention adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The Durhamites, in honor of the large majority given Major Patterson in the election in Orange on Thursday, were engaged in firing a cannon, when the gun was prematurely discharged. Mr. Perry W. Morriss, a native of Durham, was wounded severely in both hands, but it is hoped they may be saved without any serious injury to them. The day has been bright and beautiful, September, was never more charming. The old college has donned her new dress, a delicate fawn relieved with brown. The repairs and improvements on the building, and the grounds reflect the highest encomiums on the diligence, thoroughness, and perfect good taste with which they have been carried on Those who saw the collegelast spring are amazed at the transformation. The noble gravel, walks have been reopened, the grounds smoothed and cleared, the trees and shrubberies trimmed, while the buildings have been nearly all entirely renovated, repaired, white washed and painted and the works are still going forward. The College Chapel is as neat and fresh as paint can make it, and two days ago, a party of the Chapel Hill ladies took possession of it, and decorated it for the Reopening with such taste and appropriateness as the ladies alone can show on these occasions. They obtained permission to bring down the portraits of the worthles who in former times adorned and illustrated the annals of the College. These were hung round the face of the gallery with evergreen wreathes festooning the space between. The pillars also were wreathed. Over the

Rev. Dr. Hooper offered a prayer. This thrice venerable and beloved gentleman, who was himself a student more than 70 years ago, forms the only link now surviving with these early days, and it seemed a pe uliarly happy circumstance that he should be present at the revival, after the long and death-like swoon of the college which he knew in its infaucy. His prayer was devout, tender and trustful, Prof. Redd then read the opening hymn (which was sung to the good old tune, Coronation,) comosed for the occasion by Mr. W. A. Betts, a son of the Rev. Mr. Betts, of the Methodist Church, who gradusted here more than twenty years ago and married one of the prettiest girls in Chapel Hill during his Senior vacation. He has brought his sons up

Dr. Phillips then rose, making a short address as to the objects aims of the founders of the Univerthat they meant to establish a school of sound learning, "without either politics or ences from party or sect. This policy he endorsed, and meant to secure its adoption as in the days "beweeks, when their store will be un. fore the war." He then introduced Gov. Brogden to the audience.

Very few persons present were not agreeably surprised with our Governor's address. It was a speech full of animation, imbued with the best spirit of the age, wasting no time in vain regrets, but pointing forward and onward. Full too of information of the best kind, showing that Gov. Brogden keeps himself well abreast of modern progress in his reading, and is wide awake to the importance of education, technical and professional, as well as classical; and informed as to the best methods adopted, not only in this country but in Europe. We were not only surprised, but highly entertained, and ot only entertained, but instructed. It looked we I for the Univer i y, and well too for the Governor, that he should have taken the time from pressing official duties, just at the opening too of the Convention, to emphatic.

We give below an exceedingly interesting account of the opening of the University. We learn that the to the ladies at the close won all their citizens of Chapel Hill closed their hearts; but the ladies are too easily business doors and there was a gen- won, while the Governor committed the capital offence and misdemeanor not give the names of the author of and unsubstantial substitution and the last most excellent hymn. introducing Judge Battle as the next orator of the day.

Gov. Vance is always felicitous, and knows exactly what to say and when to stop. In conclusion he re-marked that perhaps his eyes were dim, but it seemed to him surveying the throng before him that th daughters were prettier than their mothers used to be. The Governor's eyes were doubtless dim as he spoke-dim for the mo-ment, as many others were-but the accuracy of his vision is beyond all cavil, and especially where pretty girls are concerned. There were some n that old chapel to-day as fair as Commencement sun ever shone onand I cannot say more. I have never seen anywhere finer types of female beauty than North Carolina has a way of sending up to Chapel Hill on these occasions. For delicacy of complexion, refinement of features and bewitching grace of air and manner, commend me to a thoroughbred North Carolina girl. Judge Battle's address took a backward survey of the history of the University. He gave us a condensed and highly interesting account of its foundation, sketches of its most distinguished sons and a resume of the influence it has exerted on the history of the State. The portraits by which he was surrounded suggested impromptu reflections, such as occur to every man of taste and sensibility on such an occasion. These men had been his friends and counsellors-some of them life long. The tributes which he took occasion to pay their memory were eloquent most touching. Gov. Brogden pointed us forward, Judge Battle's was the tenderer task to awaken the echoes of memory, and bid us Rem-ember, Resemble, and Persevere. Our tears were yet hardly dry for the most illustrious son whom the University has ever given the State. Gov. Graham's noble countenance looking down on his friends must have brought thronging recollections, and thoughts that lie "too deep for tears." We hope that both Gov. Brogden and Judge Battle's addresses will be printed; though both were necessarily prepared hastily and amid the pressure of official and profesional duties, vet both are intrinsically valuable and should be widely read. Prof. Mangum next advanced and read the closing hym, prefacing it with an elegant and graceful compliment to lady who occasion:

CONTRACTORS will positively not be allowed to exceed their space, or advertise other than the legitimate business, except by paying specially for the same.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.-Daily, one year, $5.00; six months $3.0. Weekly, one year, $4.00; Six months, 75 cents. Invariably in ad vance.

Notice to Correspondents.

No letter can be published in these colnmns which is not authenticated by the name of its author. This we require, not for publication, but as a guarantee of the good faith of correspondents. Persons wh violate this rule will have their communivations consigned to the waste-basket.

THE WEEKLY NEWS is the cheapest paper published in North Carolina. It is only one dollar per year, postage paid, contains 32 columns of plain printed news from every section of the country, and important advertisements. Always Cash.

THE Salisbury Watchman says: "We regret to learn that the Hon. F. E. Shober has been quite unwell nearly ever since he went to Raleigh: but he has never missed a vote. Such devotion to the public interest is entitled to the highest commendation."

THE Washington Chronicle is al armed at the prospect of the North Carolina Constitutional Convention passing an ordinance making the payment of the poll-tax a necessary voting qualification. It says but few of the blacks will be able to meet this requirement, and thus will be deprived of their political rights. A candid confession, we would say, that the Republicans demand that the very interest of the State should be kept under the control of a class of men who have not enough of worldly goods to enable them to pay their poll-tax. But of such is Republicanism.

THE HERALD CORRESPOND-ENT.

We desire to warn the Democrats of this and other States to receive with caution the statements of the correspondent of the Herald now reporting the action of the Constitutional Convention. His confident prediction that the Republicans would control the organization, his evident leaning to that side of the House, his partial report of the proceedings, his use of the expression "the Republicans scored one" when the question was carried by votes of Democrats and Republicans together, all go to demonstrate his bias. His attack upon Rev. Mr. Spake the delegate from Jackson, is not warranted by the ordinance introduced. and is made the occasion by the Herald of an editorial fling at that gentleman. While we do not concur in the policy of strict religious qualifications, we protest against the unmerited reflections upon gentlemen who are of a different opinion.

ALBION W. TOURGEE.

The discussion of grave questions of constitutional reform should be kept free from partizan rancor, and we had hoped that the Convention would devote itself to the work before it without wasting its time in personal attacks or self-vindications. Especially had the Democrats of North Carolina a right to expect this from their Radical opponents, who had from every stump shricked for economy, and inveighed against the "reckless waste of the people's money" involved in calling the Convention. And yet upon Thursday, Mr. Tourgee, of Guilford, in discussing the question of the number of Judges of the Supreme Court, delayed the operations of the Convention and wasted much valuable time in a set speech in vindication of the carpet-bagger. It is to be regretted that the white men of Guilford county, who deliberately elected this man in preference to John A. Gilmer and Nereus Mendenhall, could not have been present. How the blush of shame would have mantled in their cheeks at the recollection of their stupendous crime and folly. By affecting a stupidity which cannot justly be imputed to him, Mr. Tourgee refused to admit that there was any 'distinction between the honest men of the North who have settled among us, and for weal or woe have linked their fortunes with the State, and the adventurers who came to North Carolina to prey upon the misfortunes of the people, and to achieve a prominence denied them at home, by maligning the white race of the South and pandering to the grossest prejudices of the negroes. But far danger.

worse than this-attend ye lukewarm Democrats of Guilford-he went into an historical defence of the carpet-bagger, in which he had the brazen effrontery with his Goddefying blasphemy, to call our blessed Saviour a "carpet-bagger." Jesus of Nazareth the prototype of the Laslin and Littlesields, the Deweese and Tourgees! The subject defies comment or denunciation. Its naked, foul blasphemy is its sufficient condemnation.

REFORM MEASURES.

Our contemporary, the Goldsboro Messenger, thus argues the reform measures proposed by the State Constitutional Convention:

"A large number of amendments are already before the Convention in the shape of ordinances. These should be acted upon as speedily as possible. The people await the result with more than ordinary anxiety; and the responsibility rests with the sixty-one Democrats in the Convention. From the Radical side we have nothing to hope. The animus of their leaders has shown this. Then whatever reform is accomplished must be the work of the Democrats, and to these, and these only, we address ourselves. "Of the amendments already introduced a large number meet our warmest approbation, and, if enacted, would doubtless receive the sanction of the white people. We speak advisedly on this point. The people of Eastern Carolina appeal to the noted generosity of Western Carolina for aid. Whatever may be the views of our Western friends. here in the East the proposition to confer the appointment of the Judges and Magistrates upon the General Assembly meets with uni-

"The ordinance proposing to disfranchise convicted rogues and felons, and to disqualify them from holding office or acting as jurors is approved by all honest men; only rogues oppose it. Making prepayment of poll tax a qualification for suffrage is another good amendment. We would like to see both these ordinances adopted.

"Restore the old precinct system. and the courts of pleas and quarter sessions. With some little improvement the old county courts would afford cheap and speedy justice. A six months residence in the county ought to be required as a voting qualification, and the Registration law might be materially improved.

"Fixing the term of State officers at two years, is a good measure; and the ordinance introduced by the Republicans, which provides that no Convention shall bereafter be called unless the question is first submitted to the people meets our approval."

We find the following special dispatch from Washington in the Baltimore Sun of Wednesday. It is full of food for rumination:

HEAVY REPUBLICAN LOSSES IN

MAINE-THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK. WASHINGTON, Set t. 14.—The heavy decrease in the Republican majority in Maine is regarded here by the lead ing politicans of both sides as of remarkable significance, and as forecasting, among other things, the death-blow to the Presidential aspirations of ex Speaker Blaine. It shows that Mr. Blaine's influence in his own State is on the wane, and that the importation of Senator Morton was a positive damage. A leading government official, in conversation to-day, said that he fully expected now that both Ohio and Pennsylvania would be carried by rousing majprities for the Democrats. He said it was evident that the hard times would be the destruction of the Republican party. All history shows that when he pressure of hard times is upon the people they rebel against the r In monarchical countries, they can be put down by the bayonet, but in the United States, thro'gh the silent agency of the ballot-box, they dethrone their rulers. A leading Democrat said that next year he xpected to see the same popular risng, only a great deal more so, which drove Martin Van Buren out in 1840. The idea gains much strength here that Gen. Grant will be brought forward as the hard money candidate, and that he will have the combined support, as in 1872, of what is called the money power of the country. But it is not expected that he will win, whatever platform he may accept.

A judge in the city of New York has lately made a decision upon the Civil Rights Bill in its effects as to shools. He holds, as do all men of sense and fairness, that the public shools is a charity to the individual from the public and is to be governed by the wishes of the latter. Therefore he former cannot dictate how he shall share in it.

This is fact and common sense, and the schools will be managed by their supporters, whatever statutes and constitutional amendments may be General Sherman contradicts the

EULOGIES ON GRAHAM.

Pending the Consideration of the Resolutions in the State Constitutional Convention in Regard to the Death of the Lamented Statesman, Sept. 9th, 1875, Remarks of J. H. Smyth, col., Delegate from New Hanover: Mr. President and Delegates:

Death and its accompanying sorrows and regrets-not unfrequuently causes us to be regardless of many important facts, too often uninter tionally, and hence it is we behold in presence of this grim destroyer, but one side of character, one side of the life of those we bury. The extremely good or the extremely bad. From the language of the resolutions offered by the honorable gen-tleman from Orange, it would seem we come "not to bury" William A. Graham, "but to praise him," and I am glad to know that he is not unde serving of laudation for his eminent services to our common country.

There was a reason why the "sweet swan of Avon" placed these words in the mouth of Marcus Antonius:

The evil that men do, lives after them; The good is o t interred with their bones. With this reason no reader of those Roman times, or of the inimitable oration, I apprehend is unacquainted. need adopt no subtle style of expression in speaking of Wm. A. Graham. From the experience of those familiar with human nature from the earliest and highest civilization of the ancients, down through the vista of time, with its many and endless mutations, to this our time, we have been taught that men's good, rather than their evil, survives them. The converse of the great Roman's proposition is true. There are in our history, Mr. President, too many, vastly too many, examples of vice in this world to which we can point those who are disposed to swerve from right and duty, for me to pause to remember that the great dead was not in sympathy with me and mine, neither in the bloom of his manhood nor in the ripeness of his age. I pause and recall the fact that he was a consistent opponent of the extension of negro slavery. Though through life he held to the opinion of the positive inferiority of the negro, yet he is said to have treated those of the race with whom he came in contact with much kindness. To his honor as an American he loved his common country and its flag, and opposed the severance of his State from the Union for a time, though he latterly discovered more love for his State than for the Imitating our fathers and mothers who were born and lived and died here and throughout this sunny clime, forgiving the enemies of their liberties, and in the eloquence of their ignorance crying out in the language of Him who was no respector of persons, "Father forgive them they know not what they do. I also, and on the part of the 80,000 negro citizens of my adopted State, on the part of the 4,000,000 of my race in the States, accept and act upon the sentiment of the Savior of mankind not only with regard to the statesman and scholar whom you ogize, but all those who directly cr otherwise brought upon us untoid necadicated miseries. Mr. President, when the brave and courageous Robt. E. Lee presented to that great soldier and great citizen II.S. Grant his sword, the war was ended, peace was proclaimed, citizen ship and partial citizens' rights were guaranteed by the grandest and most sublime instrument ever writor amended by men on any other continent. Those whom I in part represent at ast became what you were and are citizens; became what the honored W. A. Graham was, till the brittle thread was broken, till the Damoclean sword feli, each one of us an American citizen.

As citizens of a common country we mingle our tears and share our regrets with the white men of North Carolina and the United States, in view of this great calamity-which is no less one to North Carolinians than to all other American citizens. His virtues, his learning, his excellence as a citizen, his national record made him the property of the whole people. I honor him as an illustrous American, who in other times 'mong other peoples will be revered not so much because of his birth place, Carolina, but as a great American. His rise, his progress, his not untimely tall, for the ripe, matured fruit ever falls to earth before the unripe the unmatured, have become familiar to me since his death. I forbear to allude again to these after hearing the concise, full, graphic words of eulogy pronounced by the gentleman who presented the resolutions.

Hon. W. A. Graham is especially lamented by the gentlemen of this Convention, because he was a personal friend of many, because he was familiar with the Constitutions of the State and the amendmends thereto, because he knew his State and appreciated its needs.

Let me say to the gentlemen of this Convention, his immediate colleagues, that I shall be, and those whom I represent on this floor, most happy to indulge the hope that the excellences of Grabam will be emulated by us all and them, and that they shall forget in the presence of the illustrious dead, political party ties, political pledges, political affi-liations in doing the work they have determined on with no higher, broader and other consideration in view than the conservation of the best interests of the whole, regardless of race, color, or previous condition of servitude. Mr. President, I place a garland on the grave of Wm. A. Graham. Sir I have done.

The term "grass widow" is said to be a corruption of "grace widow," the former expression being merely "Grace widow" is the term applied to one who becomes a widow by grace of favor, not of necessity, as by death, originated in the early ages of European civilization, when divorces were granted but seldom and wholly by the Catholic Church. When such a degree was granted to a woman, and the Papal receipt stated "Viduea de gratis," which interpreted is "widow of grace." In the law of the French it would read, "Veuve de grace," or "grace widow," "veuve" being trans-lated as "widow."

Mrs. Bloomer, the woman who is chiefly known to the world by the name she has given to a certain style of woman's dress, still lives at Couneil Bluffs, Iowa, is on the shady side of fifty, and-wears long skirts!

A Kansas court has decided that a man and wife may go to a circus on a ticket that says "admit one," as they are of "one flesh" and considered as a unit.

own act to poverty to save the bank and preserve his honor. Why the trustees acted as they did seems unaccountable under the circumstances In which they were placed; but this is not proper for us to discuss. The resignation of Mr. Ralston was promptly handed in, and this last act was the straw that broke his strong back. He left the bank bewildered in mind. He was homeless, abandoned, out of business. He walked fast-anywhere, reaching the North Beach probably before he thought what he was doing. His acts then prior to entering the water and while swimming, as shown by the testimony, clearly shows that he was not only sane, but also not desirous of taking his own life. When he was observed to be drowning he was swimming as fast as he could for the shore. His mental excitement and his heated blood were sufficient to cause the fatal result.

More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effect such as Sour Stomach, Sick Head-ache, Habitual Costive-ness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heartburn, Water-brash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongne and disagreeble taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, &c. To these authentic declarations of Democretic principle and policy the times afford good proof.

The present depression of business is caused by the reaction from the unhealthy stimulous of an excessive depreciated and irredeemable currency, by enormous and ill adjusted municipal State and Federal taxation, and by extravagance, waste and speculation in the administration

The remedy for this evil is not to be found in the renewal of any of the causes in the face of the fact that the existing volume of currency is greater than can be absorbed by the business, in face of the fact that the recent fall of prices was followed by repeated inflations. Any attempt to increase the currency would be worse than ineffectual to revive prosperity, for it would interrupt the healing processes of industry. It would be worse than futile to restore confldence, for it would create distrust and new uncertainties in business, paralyzing the beginnings of enterprise, rob labor of its too scanty employment, and while stifling the progress of legislative reforms would inflict lasting dishenor upon the credit, intelligence and the character of the country.

TO BUSINESS MEN. A good advertisement in a widely

ated newspaper is the best of all possible alted newspaper is the best of all possible A salesmen. It is a salesman who never sleeps and is never weary; who goes after business early and late; who accests the merchant fa his store, the scholar in his stady, the lawver in his office, the lady in her home, the traveler in the car or beat; a salesman who no purchaser can avoid a salesman who no purchaser can avoid, who can be in a thousend places at once and speak to thousands of people daily, saying to each one the best thing in the best manner. A good advertisement insures a business connection on the most permanent and independent basis, and is in a certain sense, a guarantee to the customer of fair and moderate prices. Experience has shown that the dealer, whose wares have obtained a public celebrity, is not only enabled to sell at reasonable rales, and to furnish a good article. A dealer can make no better investment than in the adve tising columns of a widely circulated newspaper. Such is the opinion of a man who is known to be the largest advertiser in the United States. That is THE DAILY NEWS

This percentage of surplus returned is much greater than that of any other compary, and more than twice that of several leading ones. It is the legitimate and incretable result of care in the selection of risks and high rate of interest received from well-invested assets. As the actual cost of the insurance to the policy holder is regulated, not by the table rate charged, but by the amount the Company is able to save and return to him from the premium paid, this inter item is of the greatest importance. Manifestly the company which is able to return to its poil y-holders the most surplus premiums, farnishes the insurance at the lowest c st.
